

Sunvair Receives Supplier of the Year Award from Boeing

VALENCIA, CALIF., April 7, 2009 -- Sunvair, an industry leader in landing gear assembly repair and overhaul, has been recognized as Supplier of the Year in the Aerospace Support category by The Boeing Company. Sunvair was one of nine companies honored April 6 for exceptional commitment to excellence in working with Boeing.

Sunvair Vice-President, Mike Dann commented, "We are truly delighted and honored for such recognition. Since 1955, Sunvair has always set out to deliver the aviation industry best quality and service every day. It is great to know these efforts of are recognized by Boeing."

A supplier to Boeing Integrated Defense Systems for the E-6 Contractor Logistics Support (CLS) Program, the KC-10 CLS Program and the KC-135 Program, Sunvair has maintained excellent performance with 100 percent quality and on-time delivery for the 2008 performance period.

In January, Sunvair was one of 411 Boeing suppliers to receive a 2008 Performance Excellence Award from the aerospace and defense company, and was one of only 86 suppliers to receive the Gold level of recognition. As a Boeing Performance Excellence Award recipient, Sunvair became eligible for consideration for the Boeing Supplier of the Year award, which is the company's premier supplier honor.

"These nine suppliers demonstrated outstanding productivity and performance in the past year and exemplify the characteristics we expect," said Steve Schaffer, a Boeing vice president and general manager of Supplier Management for Boeing Commercial Airplanes who also leads the Boeing enterprise Supplier Management integration team.

The Boeing Suppliers of the Year represent an elite group among more than 10,800 active Boeing suppliers in nearly 100 countries around the world. This selection was based on stringent performance criteria for quality, delivery performance, cost, environmental initiatives, customer service and technical expertise.
